

RASHEED AL JANABI

GE

Based in Baghdad, Iraq, Rasheed is responsible for developing and leading GE's partnership and engagement strategy with key Ministries and private sector customers across Iraq & Levant. He works closely with both internal and external stake holders, government officials, and customers to drive growth and increase GE's footprint in the region. Rasheed is responsible for driving a One GE approach to strategic opportunities across Iraq for the Power sector. In addition to his role with GE.

Rasheed holds an EMBA from Cass Business School, City University of London; a Diploma in Public Policy & Administration from the American University of Sharjah, and B.Sc. degree in Computer Science from the University of Baghdad. He is also completing his LLM degree in International Business Law from City Law School, University of London.